UNITED INFRARED ANNOUNCES THE LAUNCH OF ENERGYSKANIR™

EnergyScanIR™ is a network of trained infrared thermographer contractors with a simple goal... to help homeowners save energy.

Infrared thermography in a nutshell is, watching energy move around, which is interesting and fun! The business model is that you get paid well to document it.

Can you think of a better business than the energy business at this moment? With politics on your side, rising energy costs and the Green-Thinking at its maximum popularity, the right time is now and the time is right now.

This is good for Planet Earth, the United States, Your Neighbors and a smart business endeavor for you.

United Infrared, Inc. is a for-profit corporation designed to provide a complete and application-specific resource system for a nationwide network of local contractors of infrared thermographic services as well as providing specific infrared surveying services to the target market segment.
